The Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI) is a global standard to promote the open and accountable management of extractive resources.

Woodside joined the EITI in 2005 and became supporting company in 2008. Woodside is committed to reporting its petroleum tax and fee payments in respect of operations in implementing countries where we have an interest.

Countries in which we have an interest that are members of the EITI include Timor-Leste, Senegal, Peru and Myanmar.

Woodside recognises the interests of its stakeholders in transparency and commends tax transparency initiatives that increase public confidence in the contributions and compliance of corporate taxpayers.

In Australia, Woodside voluntarily participates in the Australian Board of Taxation’s Tax Transparency Code. For more information visit Woodside’s website via https://www.woodside.com.au/sustainability/transparency/payment-transparency
