Teck is a member of Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI) and we voluntarily provide information on our tax payments in our principal operating countries on a country-by-country basis in our sustainability report. In addition to our sustainability report, we report on our payments to governments under the Canadian Extractive Sector Transparency Measures (ESTMA) Act, available on our Public Filings Archive webpage. Our annual Economic Contribution Report provides additional detailed information on our economic contribution including taxes paid, wages and benefits, suppliers spend and community investment, and compliments our report under ESTMA. We believe that being transparent in our payments to governments can help communities to understand the economic benefits generated by mining activity and how this is distributed to governments for local, regional, and national economic and social development.

Participation and support to EITI implementing countries
Please answer the below questions.
Has your company provided data in all the EITI implementing countries when asked?

Yes, Peru is the only EITI implementing country where we operate and where we’re required to provide information. We provide EITI information through Compañía Minera Antamina S.A.’s participation in the EITI process for the Antamina mine in Peru.

In which EITI countries is your company part of the multi-stakeholder group?

Peru

What kind of support and/or contribution does your company provide to the national EITI process?

Our engagement with EITI at the corporate level primarily occurs through our membership with ICMM. We provide information as requested to EITI.

International engagement with EITI:

Please describe what your company is doing or planning to do internationally to support the EITI? E.g. member of the international EITI Board, hosting international events, secondments

Beyond that, Teck outlines our approach and support for transparency around payments to government in our annual Economic Contribution Report.

Financial contribution to the international EITI:

Other relevant information:

For example, information about whether your company discloses payments to governments on your company website (please provide link)

We support efforts to strengthen transparency and accountability related to payments to governments and we fully support the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI). We are committed to publicly reporting revenue generated from mineral extraction in the form of taxes, royalties and other payments.

Peru is the only EITI-implementing country where we have operations. Payments from the Antamina mine in that country are disclosed in accordance with EITI standards. Payments to governments related to our other operations are disclosed on our website, our reporting to the ESTMA Act, and through our Economic Contribution Report. Teck actively supports the goals and objectives of the EITI and will continue to support efforts to improve governance through increased transparency.
